

In 1954, designers Nanna and Jørgen Ditzel welcomed twin daughters – Lulu and Vita – into their family. That same year, the couple used their children as a reference for how to determine the proportions of the new and innovative high chair.

Although the Ditzels created a number of children's furniture pieces together, the High Chair is widely regarded as their masterpiece.

ND54 High Chair

The ND54 High Chair is an acclaimed work of modern children's furniture, designed by the wife and husband team of Nanna and Jørgen Ditzel.

In 1954, the Ditzels welcomed twin daughters – Lulu and Vita – into their family. That same year, the couple used their daughters as a reference for how to determine the proportions of the High Chair, which was designed as a companion to a dining room set they had recently designed. In 1955, the High Chair was introduced to the public at the Danish Arts & Crafts Exhibition in Copenhagen.

Although the Ditzels created a number of children's furniture pieces together, the High Chair is widely regarded as their masterpiece. Handcrafted in solid beech, the High Chair has been designed to adapt to the changing needs of growing children, so that the chair can be used by children up until the age of five. Each High Chair is beautiful and durable enough to be handed down for many years of use.

Nanna Ditzel was a prolific Danish designer who worked in the fields of furniture, cabinetry, textiles, jewelry, and tableware. She is remembered as a pioneer of design for children.

Nanna Ditzel

1923 - 2005

Nanna Ditzel was a leader of the 20th Century Danish Design movement. During her long and celebrated career, Ditzel worked in the fields of cabinetry, furniture, textile, tableware, and interior design. Nanna Ditzel studied to become a furniture designer at Danish School of Arts and Crafts and the Royal Danish Academy of Fine Arts. After graduating from art school in 1946, Nanna married fellow designer Jørgen Ditzel.

Later the same year, the couple started their own design studio and were some of the first in the Danish Design movement to develop high quality design products for children. During this period, the Ditzel's were awarded numerous international prizes for design. They ran their studio together until Jørgen's death in 1961. From 1968 - 1986, Ditzel lived and worked in London, before returning to Denmark until her death in 2005. Throughout her prolific career, Nanna Ditzel brought a spirit of poetry and playfulness to her designs for both children and adults. The now iconic ND54 High Chair is one of Ditzel's most popular designs and is universally recognized as a design classic.
